
Electromagnetic Vibrations Waves And Radiation By George

electromagnetic (em) waves electric and magnetic fields - electromagnetic (em) waves • a wave is a disturbance that propagates in a medium • transverse waves on a string • longitudinal sound waves in air • an electromagnetic wave is an electric and magnetic disturbance that propagates through space (even vacuum) at the speed of light 299,792,458 m/s or 186,000 miles/s. no medium is required! chapter 12: electromagnetic waves - ecschools - •electromagnetic waves are produced when something vibrates an electric charge that moves back and forth. •when an electric charge vibrates, the electric field around it changes. 12.1 making electromagnetic waves what are electromagnetic waves? •because the electric charge is in motion, it also has a magnetic field around it. waves homework from the book: exercises: 1, 2, 3, 5-10, 12 ... - while visible light, radio waves, microwaves and x-rays seem very different to our senses, they are all part of the electromagnetic spectrum. all of these waves, electromagnetic radiation, move through a vacuum at the speed of light (3×10^8 m/s) and do not require a media to propagate. waves we measure: electromagnetic or mechanical? - waves we measure: electromagnetic or mechanical? overview: light is an electromagnetic wave. in contrast, sound is a type of mechanical wave. sounds can be produced at a range of frequencies, from the infrasonic (below the range of human hearing) to the ultrasonic (above the range of human hearing). ch13. vibrations and waves - all waves (sound waves, waves on a string, seismic waves, water waves, electromagnetic waves,...) have a vibrating object as their source. we can apply shm to describe the waves. let's first define a wave: the motion of a disturbance. example: the surface of water after dropping a stone in the water. topic 15: vibration and waves - vibration and waves will help give a visual image of de broglie waves. links to physics: the study of vibrations and waves is needed to understand electromagnetic wave behavior, simple harmonic motion, the difference between transverse and longitudinal waves that distinguishes between light and sound. the physics of vibrations and waves - semfe - the physics of vibrations and waves - 6th edition compiled by dr youfang hu optoelectronics research centre (orc), university of southampton, uk in association with the author h. j. pain formerly of department of physics, imperial college of science and technology, london, uk
